TECHNOLOGY PARTNERSHIP

Cortech

Company Background

Providing solutions since 1992 with five major generations of software, Cortech Developments is a leading industry specialist in risk mitigation, offering integrated software solutions for building, fire, and security systems. With a proven track record in high-security environments, Cortech assists organizations in meeting regulatory requirements, reducing risk and cost, while achieving greater efficiency and situational awareness.

Datalog, Cortech's core product, is a modular and scalable graphical user interface that monitors and controls an extensive portfolio of both local and remote third-party technology integrations. Cortech's solutions are deployed in mission-critical environments across over 30 countries, including key sectors such as Defence, Prisons & Custodial, Utilities, Education, Healthcare, and more. Committed to demonstrating technical knowledge and expertise, Cortech is annually audited against certifications like ISO 9001, ISO 27001, and UK Cyber Essentials, and has recently been certified as Carbon Neutral as well as made in Britain.
